

eCompliance adds Ritchie Bros. to list of clients

Global equipment auctioneer migrates 90% of its employees to eCompliance platform in just 10 days

Global used equipment asset management and disposition company, Ritchie Bros., recently signed on with eCompliance as their preferred safety software provider. In search of a new, simple, easy-to-use, centralized software with offline capabilities on mobile, Ritchie Bros. saw eCompliance as a natural fit.

“We were looking for an organization that was customer-centric, paying close attention to our needs,” said David Fogarty, Director, Environment, Health & Safety at Ritchie Bros. “eCompliance has been quick to react to any feedback we’ve provided and within the first 10 days of launching, we were able to get over 90% of our people fully functional in how the system worked, as well as the benefits.”

Mr. Fogarty continued, “We operate around the world, with 45 auction sites in 19 countries, so having an effective safety process is a top priority at Ritchie Bros. The ability to have a constant flow of communication that allows the field managers to remain connected to head office was integral in the evaluation process when selecting a new safety software.”

“We’re extremely pleased to have a safety leader like Ritchie Bros. as a client. They’ve shown exemplary success in safety initiatives over a short period of time and were able to completely roll-out their new safety system within three months. We’re excited for our ongoing success with them and hope to continue to grow this partnership,” said President and COO of eCompliance, Josh LeBrun.
