eCompliance Appoints Tony Mignardi as Director of Sales

IBM global sales executive joins leading EHS cloud solutions provider to support growing analytics platform

Toronto, March 30, 2017 – eCompliance, a leading EHS software provider, announced today the appointment of Tony Mignardi as Director of Sales.

Tony will work with the eCompliance team to support the growing sales initiatives following the launch of the EHS function's first cloud analytics platform. With over a decade of experience with one of the most innovative technology companies in the world, Tony brings a breadth of knowledge and understanding to a forward-thinking and innovative cloud analytics space.

As a professional engineer and Golden Circle Award Winner for Top Sales, Tony is highly regarded throughout the North American software industry. "I'm extremely excited to have someone of Tony's caliber join the eCompliance team. We are at a pivotal point where the cloud has proven to impact safety performance and Tony is the right addition at the right time for our customers." mentioned Adrian Bartha, CEO of eCompliance.

In his previous role, Tony was recognized and awarded as the North American Sales Manager of the year amongst 300 peers. His ability to scale a team and achieve aggressive growth targets sets him apart. With a track record of successfully managing $400M in revenue for core solutions across SaaS companies, Tony is considered a visionary senior executive. "I'm thrilled to join the eCompliance team and work with a group of professionals that care about their clients and develops a solution that truly solves their business problem" said Mignardi. "I look forward to being a part of the continued success of the organization and am pleased to lead an amazing group of people".
