

eCompliance Recognized as One of Deloitte's 2018 Technology Fast 50™ Companies-to-Watch

TORONTO, ON, November 15, 2018 – eCompliance, the number one software for strengthening safety culture, has been recognized as a 2018 Technology Fast 50™ Company-to-Watch. This award spotlights emerging companies who exhibit strong growth and show potential to be a future candidate of the Technology Fast 50™ award.

“Being recognized as a Technology Fast 50™ Company-to-Watch is a great milestone for the growth journey of eCompliance,” says Adrian Bartha, CEO, eCompliance. “This is a testament to the improvements in safety performance our customers have experienced by using the best the cloud has to offer and the fact that EHS technology is just scratching the surface of its potential. As an early leader in mobile and IoT technology we can now leverage AI technologies to help our customers workforces continue to return home safely to their families every day.”

Technology Fast 50™ Companies-to-Watch winners are new companies headquartered in Canada, demonstrating superior technology, effective management experience and common traits of Deloitte Technology Fast 50 award winners. To be eligible, candidates must also devote a significant portion of their operating revenues to creating proprietary technology or intellectual property.

“We’re proud to recognize this year’s Companies-to-Watch winners, not only to celebrate their early achievements, but also their potential moving forward,” said Erica Pretorius, Partner and National Leader for the Technology Fast 50™ program at Deloitte Canada. “This year’s winners are integral in setting the example for younger, emerging companies on how to be courageous, seek opportunity and take calculated risks.”
